

IcePro Camp

Acadia Mountain Guides Climbing School

Director Jon Tierney, IFMGA Licensed Mountain Guide

Accredited by the American Mountain Guides Association since 1993

December 27 to January 1 Ages 13 - 18

Get psyched for ice - the newest addition to the youth climbing camp program. IcePro camp is for high school age students who are serious about learning to climb ice and to winter camp. The camp is based in the White Mountains of New Hampshire in the heart of New England's best front country ice climbing.

This is an action camp focused on getting out climbing and learning new skills every day. Climbers can expect to learn a variety of techniques for climbing ice from low angle French techniques to efficient movement up the steepest vertical lines. We will also spend a day learning snow climbing skills, self arrest and the basics of avalanche awareness. During the week there will be opportunities for both single and multi-pitch ice climbing. Climbers will gain an excellent understanding of the demands of climbing and living in a winter environment while spending a week immersed in a New England winter.

Price: $750
